Bill:

I am sorry for the delay, but there are some legal issues that have come up relating to the identifying of additional PRPs for the Gulfco Site that are being worked out. These efforts have been hampered by technical difficulties caused by the migration of EPA's database to another system. I hope to resolve these issues before I go on vacation next week. Unfortunately, until a special notice is issued, the EPA cannot release the name of any parties that are currently under review as a PRP.
